

Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc.
4400 Willow Parkway
Cuyahoga Heights, Ohio 44125

216-391-4822 Phone | 216-391-3480 Fax
www.BrennanHVAC.com

“Our HVAC specialists service an eight county area. We moved our headquarters to Cuyahoga Heights to give them quick access to Interstates 77 and 480. It’s been great for our business and for our customers.”— David Masciarelli, President

Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc. was founded in 1977 to provide facility managers with a comprehensive computerized preventative maintenance program for their HVAC systems. Today, Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc. has grown to be one of the area’s most respected and trusted commercial, industrial and residential service companies. Offering a broad array of products and services, and supporting these products and services with a professional and dedicated workforce, Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc. provides its customers with high quality design build installation and preventative maintenance services, with unmatched service and support excellence.

Leadership in Commercial Preventive Maintenance Contracts

Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc.’s commitment to customer satisfaction includes our ability to combine leading edge technology with our technical expertise to create customized solutions. From computerized preventative maintenance contracts, through servicing and 24 hour/365 day availability, our customers experience the confidence, satisfaction and comfort that comes from working with knowledgeable leaders who understand your specific requirements. We can be counted on to provide comprehensive solutions for all your heating, cooling, and service needs.

Knowledge Leadership in Design Build

Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc.’s singular expertise in design build places us in a small category of heating and cooling companies who can start at the beginning of a project and continue through advanced preventative maintenance service for the life of the system. Designing in efficiency, reliability, and optimizing technology and new green initiatives, Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc. will design and build a system to meet your specific needs and keep operating at peak performance. Our customers benefit with improved efficiency, reliability and reduced energy costs, while extending your heating, cooling and ventilating systems’ useful life.

Taking It Home—Unparalleled Leadership in Residential Installation, Service and Maintenance

Sometimes the most important job is your home. As whole-house comfort specialists, Brennan’s knowledgeable residential team points out insulation deficiencies and specializes in solving problems in houses that include dust problems, allergy problems and moisture. Brennan Heating & Cooling, Inc. maximizes comfort in residential structures, improving “quality of life” through new installations.

Performance at the Highest Levels with the Greatest Reliability and Efficiency—It Starts With You

Our mission is to create loyal customers and long lasting relationships. How do we do this? It starts with you. Understanding your needs and objectives is always the first step. From the simplest job to the most complex challenge, we work closely with you to develop and design the best solution. Our designers, engineers, and technicians are recognized as leaders in our industry and deliver the results you need. In the end, you get unsurpassed performance at the highest levels with the greatest reliability and efficiency. To learn more, please visit www.BrennanHVAC.com or call 216-391-4822

Properties | May 2013 | Preventive Maintenance Article

<http://tinyurl.com/l8g4naz>